A CLOSER TIE . . .

BETWEEN SCHOOL and COMMUNITY

. . . is the purpose of this, the 1940 ROUSER. We, students today, recognize that tomorrow we shall be citizens in our communities. We hope to portray, through picture and story, the means by which the RIVERSIDE-BROOKFIELD HIGH SCHOOL does its part in developing worthy members of society.

One of the aims of modern education is to train for estimable home membership and community participation. The purpose of education is to teach a person to be free from selfish action and to think of himself from the standpoint of the group welfare. True education is not science or art, history or grammar, — it is the correlation of these subjects in the development of the individual.

Participation in the social activities of the school develops social consciousness, ease, and poise. The physical education program helps build stronger and healthier citizens. The challenge of the unknown stimulates mental alertness and scholastic endeavor in the classroom.

Education is a contributing factor in progress. - It is only through the cooperation of school, home, and community, however, that an educational program can be wholly complete and successful. We hope the following pages will show the part our school is playing in this program.

The Board of Education

MR. JOHN D. CLANCY

Ever mindful of its responsibility in caring for the educational needs of the community, the Board of Education has labored earnestly to provide for the increased enrollment at RIVERSIDE-BROOKFIELD HIGH SCHOOL. During the school year, 1939-40, it made outstanding improvements in the gymnasium and cafeteria, and supplied new equipment to the library, the metal shop, and the home economics department.

Mr. John D. Clancy, President, has served the board and the community faithfully for eight years. His co-workers are: Mrs. C. B. Allen, who has been a member of the board for four years; Mr. Ross Hinkle, six years; Mrs. T. H. Ludlow, six years; and Mr. E. M. Trone, eight years.

SUPERINTENDENT I. E. HAEBICH

With characteristic enthusiasm and energy, Mr. Haebich has administered his duties as Superintendent of Riverside-Brookfield High School. Formerly Assistant-superintendent and Dean of Boys, Mr. Haebich accepted his present position in the spring of 1939. He always finds time, no matter how many urgent matters may be at hand, to help students with their problems; and, with the Board of Education and his staff, to determine the policies of the school in an efficient and democratic manner. Mr. Haebich took his B.S. at Baldwin-Wallace College and his M.S. at the University of Chicago.

ADMINISTRATION

Richard V. Lybeck, coach of the heavy-weight football team and instructor in history, was appointed Dean of Boys last year. He is admired by all for his absolute impartiality and his sense of fair play, and both boys and girls become better sportsmen through their contacts with him.

Mr. Lybeck is in charge of the National Youth Administration grant to Riverside-Brookfield High School. He is untiring in his efforts to administer this fund in the best way and in helping the boys solve their problems of school and community life.

Mr. Lybeck received his B.A. at Luther College and is working for his M.A. at the University of Colorado.

Florence M. Thompson, Dean of Girls, is a helpful and understanding friend. She strives to coordinate the social and scholastic aspects of school life that each student may develop a well-integrated personality.

Miss Thompson, who took her B.S. at Indiana State Teachers College and her M.S. at Ohio University, is sponsor of the Sharclub and of the Beceus Club. The purpose of these clubs is to promote unity among the girls and to foster pride in, and a sense of belonging to, the school and the community.

Miss Thompson is one of the most enthusiastic workers for the newly organized Extra-curricular Board, which "fosters further cooperation and understanding between faculty and students."

Speak! Read! Write! is the title of one of the books used in the English department and it well summarizes the aims of the four courses offered. Caroline Ewan, head of the department, received her B.A. at the University of Illinois. She is at present working for her M.A. at the University of Chicago.

Mabel Bare, B.E., Illinois State Normal University; M.A., University of Michigan, is sponsor of the Honor Senate. Under Miss Bare's direction, a revised edition of The Handbook is being prepared.

Raoul R. Haas, director of the Junior Class play and sponsor of THE ROUSER, received his B.A. at Lake Forest College and his M.A. at Northwestern University. Mr. Haas has completed further graduate study at Northwestern University and at the University of Colorado.

Mary Houston, B.A., Knox College; M.A., University of Chicago, is continuing her graduate study at the University of Colorado. She has also done work at Columbia University and the University of Wisconsin. Miss Houston is sponsor of the Foreign Correspondence Club and supervisor of THE CLARION, the weekly newspaper.

E. Lucile Shipley, sponsor of the Masque and Wig Club and director of the Senior Class play, took her B.E. at Illinois State Normal University and her M.A. at Columbia University.

Dale B. Vetter, instructor in English and school librarian, received his B.A. at North Central College and his M.A. at Northwestern University. Sponsor of the Advertising Club, Mr. Vetter is continuing with his study at the latter institution and at the University of Chicago.

Through the study of foreign languages one obtains a more thorough understanding of his own language. Since every country has contributed to civilization something of great value in literature, science, music, or art, the study of a language presents the student with a wide cultural background. In each of the three languages offered—Latin, Spanish, and German—the student is given a reading knowledge and is taught the principles upon which the language is based. The lives and customs of the people, to whom the tongue is native, are also studied.

Mary A. Moore, head of the department, received her B.A. at Penn College and her M.A. at Columbia University. She has done further research at the University of Chicago. Besides teaching Latin, Miss Moore sponsors Pro Merito, and is co-sponsor of the Usher Club.

Marie Hine teaches Latin and Spanish, and offers a course in Social Science. She received her B.A. and M.A. at the University of Washington. Miss Hine has done further work at Washington and at Columbia University. In addition to her teaching duties, Miss Hine sponsors the Spanish Club and is chairman of the Assembly Program Committee.

Flora Frazier took her B.S. at DePauw University and, at the present, is working for her M.A. She has completed graduate study at Columbia University, Chicago University, and Indiana University. Miss Frazier has classes in both German and English and is sponsor of the German Club, Der Deutsche Verein.

To prepare students for such vocations as engineering, medicine, architecture, and other branches of science and research, and to give a cultural background in one of the most ancient of man's studies, is the primary purpose of the mathematics department. Facilities for a four year course in mathematics is available to the student.

Lee E. Arthur, head of the department, is director of the school's guidance service. Mr. Arthur received his B.S. at Denison University and his M.A. at the University of Chicago. He is now doing research work in psychology at the latter institution.

Nettie K. Courtney received her Ph.B. at the University of Chicago, where she

Science

The aims of the science department are threefold: to acquaint students with their environment through observation and experimentation, to provide the background necessary to an understanding of modern thought, and to inculcate the scientific attitude in meeting the problems of life.

I. E. Haebich, Superintendent, is also head of the department and, with his staff, determines the policies of instruction in biology, physics, and chemistry.

Merrill G. Lott, chemistry instructor, received his B.S. at the University of Chicago and he is now working at Northwestern University for his M.A. in Guidance and Administration. Mr. Lott is sponsor of the Hi-Y Club and Ticket Supervisor for the Student Activity Plan.

The classes in physics are taught by Kingsley L. Roth, who received his B.S. at Baldwin-Wallace College. Mr. Roth

The Social Science department, headed by Norton R. Kaiser, strives to secure a conception of worthy citizenship, thereby preparing young people for intelligent and effective participation in community life.

Mr. Kaiser, Ph.B. and Ph.M., was elected to Phi Beta Kappa at the University of Wisconsin, the institution conferring his degrees. He is faculty advisor for the Student Council and supervisor of the Hall Guard system.

Clarence W. Carlson, B.E., Northern Illinois State Teachers College, serves as lightweight football and track coach in addition to his teaching duties. Mr. Carlson has completed his work for the master's degree at Northwestern University.

Ethel M. Curtis, Registrar and Secretary to the Board of Education, took her Bachelor of Arts degree at Coe College. Miss Curtis offers the department's work in Industrial Geography.

Richard V. Lybeck, B.A., Luther College, is Boys' Counselor and coach of the heavyweight football team.

Clarence M. Peebles, B.A., University of Illinois, B. Mus. Ed., American Conservatory, and M.A., Northwestern University, is continuing with his studies at the latter institution. As Senior Guidance Chairman, Mr. Peebles is of great assistance to students planning college study. He is sponsor of the Camera Club and photography advisor for THE ROUSER.

LaRue G. Thompson took his B.A. and M.A. at the University of Illinois. Mr. Thompson is sponsor of the Debate and Pep Clubs.

Commerce

"To prepare the student for a job; to give a personal background; and to make means to an end, is the threefold purpose of the Commerce Department," says Ruth M. Cleary, head of the department. She received her B.A. and her M.A. at the University of Michigan and has completed further work at Northwestern University and New York University. Miss Cleary supervises the course in Office Practice.

Clarabel Barrick, instructor in shorthand and typing, received her B.E. at the Illinois State Normal University.

H. W. Hoffman, teacher of bookkeeping and commercial arithmetic, received his B.A. at the University of Kansas and has done graduate work at the University of Chicago, Campbell College, and the Springfield, Missouri, Normal School. He sponsors the Philatelist club.

Pauline M. Smith is instructor in shorthand and typing. She received her B.E. at the Illinois State Normal School and has taken further work at Northwestern University. The Scribblers club is sponsored by Miss Smith.

Music

The purpose of the music department at RIVERSIDE-BROOKFIELD HIGH SCHOOL is to instill an appreciation of, and a love for, the best in music that students, when they have left school, may enjoy to the fullest the musical opportunities offered by the radio and the concert hall.

Even more important, perhaps, is the chance for pupil participation offered by the department. There are several choruses: A Capella, Mixed, Freshmen, and a Girls' Glee Club, that all may have the pleasure of musical expression. The band and orchestra give advanced students an opportunity to play together and offer individual instruction to beginning players.

Alice Brainerd, Mus. B., Denver College of Music, and A.B., Colorado State College of Education, directs the choruses. Under her supervision are produced the annual operetta and the Christmas Candlelight Service. A violinist, Miss Brainerd is sponsor of the Orpheus Music Society.

Louis Newmark, director of the band and orchestra, took his B.E. at the Milwaukee State Teachers College and his M.A. at the University of Iowa. Two organizations, the dance orchestra and the accordion band, were founded under Mr. Newmark's supervision this year. In addition to his musical activities, Mr. Newmark offers work in the Social Science department.

Drawing

CARSON

The drawing department offers work in two fields: mechanical drawing and fine and applied arts. The courses in mechanical drawing, required by most engineering schools, are fundamental to many professions. The houseplanning course is offered to teach girls to recognize and appreciate a well-designed house and it strives to make them intelligent consumers. J. George Vance is the head of the drawing department. He received his A.B. at Lawrence College, his B.S. at Stout Institute, and his M.A. at Northwestern University. Mr. Vance teaches machine and architectural drawing, and the houseplanning course. He is faculty advisor for THE ROUSER business staff.

Marion E. Carson teaches the courses in fine arts. The course includes general preparatory work with pen, pencil, and oil and water color. Next year two new courses, Costume Design, and Poster Design and Commercial Art will be offered. Miss Carson received her B.S. and M.S. at the University of Wisconsin.

Mr. Roth and Mr. Shuey also offer courses in this department.

Industrial Arts

The Industrial Arts department presents to the student a useful knowledge of materials and tools, the proper adaptation of materials to fill definite needs, and an understanding of the correct and safe handling of both hand tools and power machines. It seeks to provide him with a means of expression through the development of manual skills. One third of the student body is enrolled in the various courses offered.

Otto C. Haack, who is head of the department and instructor in printing, also holds a responsible position as Chairman of the Industrial Arts Round Table. Under his direction The Clarion, The Handbook, and other school publications are printed. Mr. Haack received his B.S. at Stout Institute.

William A. Shuey, B.E., Northern Illinois State Teachers College, instructs in wood working and mechanical drawing. In addition he helps coach the heavy-weight football team and is a co-sponsor of the Lettermen's Club.

Robert V. Richert, B.S., Stout Institute, serves as coach of the lightweight basketball team as well as teaching classes in metal shop. Under his direction the championship of the West Suburban Conference came to RIVERSIDE-BROOKFIELD this year.

Home Economics

The purposes of the Home Economics Department are to teach girls to be intelligent consumers, and to plan and prepare simple meals.

New equipment for the foods and sewing rooms was purchased this year. The foods room, arranged on the unit plan, gives each group of four students a complete kitchen with cupboards, sink, and a modern range.

Girls taking the clothing course learn to make simple garments and to express their personalities through their choice of clothes.

Mrs. Sadie Lussenhop, who received her B.S. at the Central State, Wisconsin, Teachers College, offers classes in foods and home management and supervises the cafeteria.

Antonia Kramp, instructor in clothing and personal regimen, took her B.S. at Lewis Institute, and is working for her M.A. at Iowa State University.

Physical Education

Sportsmanship, cleanliness, and loyalty—these are the basic principles sought after by the Physical Education department. High standards and a sense of fairness on the field of sport are acquired by students participating in the various athletic activities sponsored by the department.

W. Alfred Dudley is the boys' physical education instructor and head of the department. He received his B.E. at the Northern Illinois State Teachers College. Mr. Dudley is the heavyweight basketball coach and, with Mr. Carlson, coach of the track team.

Virginia Boyle teaches the girls' gym classes. She took her B.E. at Illinois State Normal University and is working for her M.A. at New York University.

Miss Boyle is the sponsor of the Girls' Athletic League, an organization which she helped to found two years ago.

The Office

One of the most important departments in the school is the office. Here the business functions of the school are carried on. Among the duties performed in the office are the issuing of absence and tardy slips by the Deans, the sorting and filing of school records, the preparation of school reports, the operation of the switchboard, and the reception of visitors to the school. In addition, commerce students are given an opportunity for practical experience with office routine through office practice.

The office staff consists of Miss Ethel Curtis, secretary to the Board of Education and instructor in Social Science; Miss Jessica Hofstra, assistant secretary; 1936 - 1937. Mr. Roosevelt was elected to his second term as Chief Executive . . . all for love, Edward VIII abdicated . . . the Spanish Civil War began . . . the Rome-Berlin axis was evolved . . . the Yankees began their reign as undisputed world champions . . . and we were freshmen. . .

Our enviable record began thus long ago when, with much trepidation, a great number of us enrolled in Riverside-Brookfield High School. Since we felt somewhat inferior to the confident, overbearing upperclassmen, we, for the most part, kept our potential abilities hidden and spent much of our time at the Brookfield Zoo. We did, however, manage to make ourselves heard in several ways; mainly through our vociferous support of the heavyweight football team which, due to our inspiring cheers, no doubt, won the first football championship to come to Riverside-Brookfield.

We were represented in several other activities, particularly those of the music department. To guide us through these perilous times we chose Victor Peterson for president of the class, William Zeman, vice-president; Dorothy Ehling, secretary; and June Gustafson, treasurer.

This year saw also the beginning of the Guidance Program, under the supervision of Mr. Lee Arthur; the reorganization of the Student Council, with Mr. Norton R. Kaiser as adviser; and the junior and senior class plays, BABS and MIGNONETTE, under the direction of Miss E. Lucile Shipley.

1937 - 1938. Germany entered Austria . . . Italy crushed Albania . . . Roosevelt's reorganization bill was defeated . . . and the United States took the block-head, Charlie, to its heart. . .

Duly initiated into the intricacies of higher education, we successfully advanced to the role of sophomores. With our freshman officers re-elected, our stalwart class garnered many honors.

In addition to claiming the distinction of being the last class to use the "old building" exclusively, we contributed several of our members to the casts of such dramatic productions as THE FRANTIC PHYSICIAN and A FULL HOUSE.

We sent our first representatives to the Honor Senate. They were Gwen Barrett, Lorraine Fabbri, James Brown, and Victor Peterson. To the Student Council we elected Lynden Woody, Barbara Wagner, Victor Peterson, and Robert Rice.

It was also at this time that the stars who were later destined to become the nucleus of a championship basketball team made their initial appearances.

The senior play was DAVID COPPERFIELD, under Miss Shipley's direction and a freshman, John Smithson, played the young Davie. The junior play, HEADED FOR EDEN, was directed by a new teacher, Mr. Raoul R. Haas.

Mr. Dale B. Vetter, who began at once to reorganize the library, a task sorely needed; Mr. Larue G. Thompson; and Mrs. Sadie Lussenhop were added to the faculty this year.

As the year closed, we could look back with pleasure upon our achievements as lowly underclassmen.

1938 - 1939. Nationwide election gains were made by the G.O.P. . . . Czecho-Slovakia was dismembered as the democracies faltered at Munich . . . war was brewing in Europe. . .

Returning as juniors, we were at once amazed and pleased by the additions to the school building. We had new classrooms and new shops. Mr. Robert V. Richert had been added to the faculty to give courses in metal shop; Miss Marian E. Carson was the new teacher of art and design; and Miss Virginia Boyle and Miss Clarabel Barrick were the new instructors in physical education for girls and commerce. This year, too, Miss Florence

Seniors Tell Their Story

M. Thompson accepted the position of Girls' Counselor and Visiting Teacher.

Having at last gained the coveted title of upperclassmen, we proceeded to fulfill our new responsibilities in the best tradition of Riverside-Brookfield High School. Largely through the efforts of its junior members, the Student Council made plans which led to the redecoration of the lunchroom and to other improvements.

In the field of dramatics our class excelled. The junior play, A PARAGRAPH FOR LUNCH, while not popularly received, showed outstanding acting ability among the members of the cast. We did not place high in football or basketball, but our teams showed their good sportsmanship and will-to-win in every game they played.

Our class elected Marcia Zimmerman, Barbara Wagner, DeWitt Drury, and Victor Peterson to the Student Council. To the Honor Senate went Virginia Blaha, Jerry Dobrovolsky, Shirley Johnson, and Burton Michel. Donald Abel, James Brown, DeWitt Drury, Burton Michel, and Victor Peterson were members of the newly formed debate team sponsored by Mr. Thompson.

On the track team we were represented by Pat Shawhan, Clarence Welgos, Joe Post, Ray Benson, Bill Zeman, and Bill Johnston. Junior members of the orchestra included Mary Louise Nelson, Helen Penney, Burton Michel, and Leigh Robinson.

The outstanding social event of the year was, of course, the Junior Prom. Our class officers were Barbara Wagner, president; Howard Anderson, vice-president; Lynden Woody, secretary; and Clarence Welgos, treasurer.

1939 - 1940. In America President Roosevelt kept the country guessing about a third term . . . GONE WITH THE WIND was finally released, playing for four hours . . . In Europe the College of Cardinals elected a new pope, Pius XII . . . Hitler attacked Poland . . . England and France declared war on Germany . . . Russia attacked Finland . . . war . . . war . . . war . . .

Now we were seniors! We elected Howard Anderson president of the class; Lynden Woody, vice-president; Shirley Johnson, secretary; and Joe Post, treasurer. Taking full advantage of the distinction and authority now accrued to us, we asserted ourselves in all lines of scholastic endeavor and physical activity.

Led by seniors, the basketball team won the district championship with an enviable record. Our play, THE ADORABLE SPENDTHRIFT, was a complete success. The debate team, composed almost entirely of seniors, enjoyed a gratifying season.

Senior representatives to the Student Council were Bette Beindorf, Jean Lipsey, Bud Rice, Terrence Duffy, Jerome Dobrovolsky, and Victor Peterson. This year, too, brought the first All-School Dance. Riverside-Brookfield celebrated Leap Year with a dance; the girls assuming the responsibility for their escorts' good time. Under Miss Thompson's direction, the Extra-curricular Board was organized.

During the year the junior class presented three performances of GROWING PAINS, establishing a new record for presentations and attendance. Mr. Louis Newmark joined the faculty to direct the band and orchestra. Miss Alice Brainerd presented the highly successful operetta, THE CHIMES OF NORMANDY.

And this year Mr. I. E. Haebich became superintendent and Mr. Richard V. Lybeck was made Dean of Boys.

So much is history. The future? "The future is but the past, entered through another gate." This being so, the class of 1940 may anticipate a most successful one.

P. E. DEMONSTRATION

Dear Jim,
You know we have come a long way, longer than most kids. - remember the old gang in grammar school the fights, the cones, the huts etc.
We did have fun all through school, and now we are at the end. You and Harriet make a "swell" couple, even if you don't love her (according to your mother). I really had fun knowing Harriet and you, and would like to see you go far together.
Well you have made your place in the history of R. B. High in football, and I know you'll go great guns in college.
a few of the girls to some of the other boys after all given them a chance. Well I do sincerely hope that graduation won't make too much of a difference between us. I hope I'll see you around during the holidays, and also don't forget that Dr. Parnes isn't so terribly far away.
I would like to see you come up for a few visits, after all we could have fun, and then we could talk freely - remember the front porch incident, that taught me a lesson. Well I don't have to wish you luck, but he goes and love from next year.
B. B.
P.S. It would be nice to get a letter from you now

To a small little fellow with loads of personality lots of luck in your future years
 Yours —

Best of luck to a ladies man and football player. Ray
 I see you later

The Football Season

Although Coach Lybeck's heavyweight team was green and lacked necessary experience at the beginning of the year, they improved rapidly until at the end of the season they were as good as any team in the conference. The team was exceptionally light, but fast and aggressive.

Coach Carlson's lightweight squad was well prepared for a season of wins but Lady Luck refused to smile on the R-B ponies and the team was dangerously crippled with injuries to several first string players. Their record of wins and losses is ample proof that every other team in the conference had reason to fear the prowess of the Bulldogs.

R-B is proud of these boys for the way they submerged individualism to execute some of the best team work seen on these fields. Both teams offered stiff competition to every team they played.

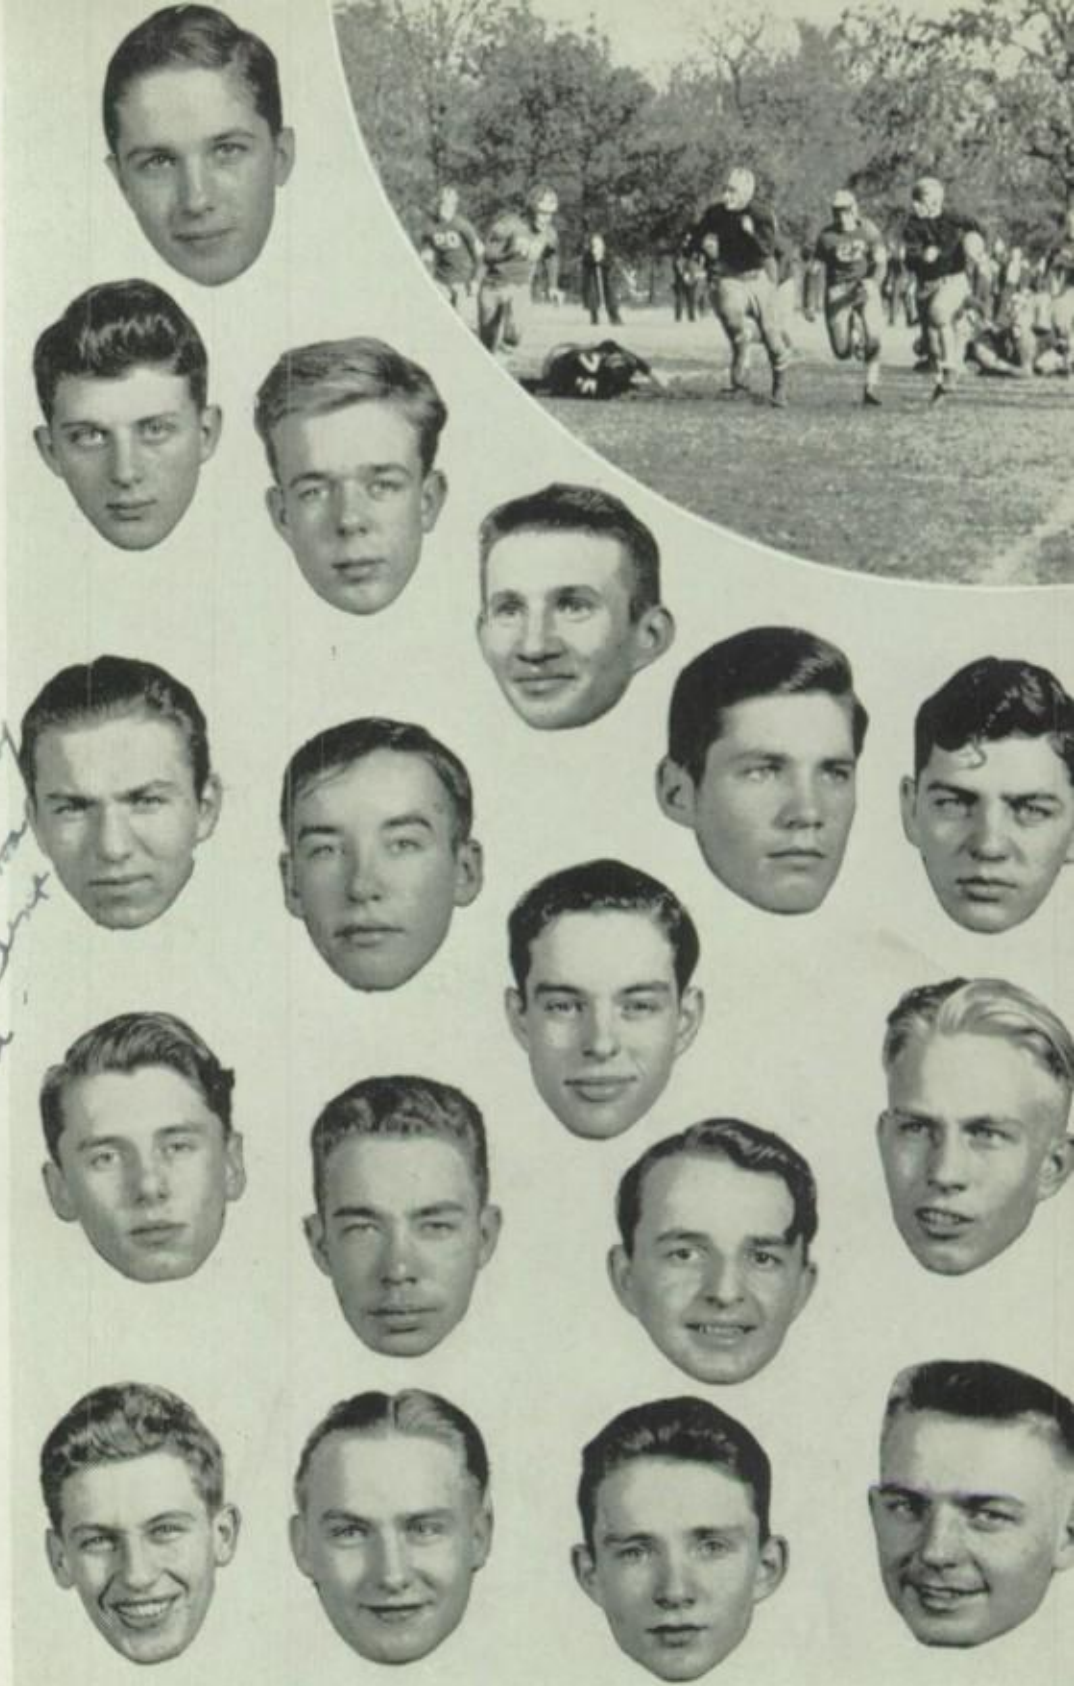

LIGHTS

The lightweight squad is going to miss nine of its players next year for that number of lettermen are graduating. Howard Anderson, who made the last touchdown of the season, played every minute of all the games and received the left guard position on the All Conference Second Team. Jimmy King and Harold Swanson were both picked for the first team; Jimmy, the smallest man on the team, as quarterback, and "Whitey" for the right end position.

The center position was well taken care of by Alan Lewis until he was injured in the Glenbard game. Paul Haase, high scorer for the lights, will be remembered for snagging the pass in the Downers game that resulted in the winning touchdown. Kenneth Kapoun and Raymond Holzwart, playing their first football, developed rapidly. Ray was given honorable mention for All Conference tackle. Although unable to play in all of the games because of a knee injury, William Zeman showed his ability as a tackler in the Oak Park game. Richard Freitag, energetic tackler, could always be counted on.

There are eight lettermen from the Junior and Sophomore classes returning next year. Henry Sordel, the backbone of the team, carried a double burden by playing lights and heavies. "Hank," John Turner, and Aubrey Fanning will be the stars of the backfield next year. Up and coming linemen are Roy Ferretti, Dick King, James Lyle, John Miller, and Karl Franson.

These boys were ably assisted by Mark Coons, Darrell Hallberg, Walter Jablonski, Harley Johnson, Ray Lokay, Lee McCue, Thomas McCue, Robert Miller, Richard Novak, Joseph Post, David Price, Richard Sie-weke, William Sullivan, William Welch, John Wolz, and Herbert Black.

Handwritten note: "He had not yet graduated - we cannot count him."

HEAVIES

The past season's football team was captained by that ever-steady Clarence Welgos. "Joe" was the only man to play every minute of the games and he received the All Conference Second Team end position. The scrappy guard this year was Terrance Duffy. "Duff" has been unanimously voted to the past two All Conference teams, able recognition of his ability. The tackle positions were held by Frank Mazanec and Ted Barcik, two boys who weren't flashy but were steady.

Tackles behind the line of scrimmage were the specialty of end Ed Laurick. Lester Schueneman was handicapped by an early season shoulder injury. Everett Steinhoff and Ray Komarek shared the back-field duties. Both of them were triple-threat men. Important yards were captured by fullback Ed Ryden and Homer Taylor, who performed the necessary blocking for their teammates' runs.

Our line was strengthened by the defensive work of guard Ray Trinko. Ed Nelson and Lynn Alford gave commendable performances in relief roles. Earl "Red" Fleming assumed fullback duties at the end of the season. Tom Flynn, although a sophomore, turned in some nice work at the center position. Bob Kennedy, another sophomore, gave valuable relief in the line.

The Basketball Season

Basketball reigned supreme as the king of sports at Riverside-Brookfield High School this year. The season got off to a flying start with both the heavy and lightweight cagers defeating their opponents in the first game of the year. From then on Mr. Richert's ponies continued their trot toward the crown and ended the season as undefeated champions of the West Suburban Conference.

Mr. Dudley's heavies didn't fare as well, although they played excellent ball, and landed in the cellar of the league. Coached by both Mr. Dudley and Mr. Richert, Riverside-Brookfield also captured the trophy in the Wheaton Invitational District Tournament and reached the semi-finals of the State Regional.

Approximately one hundred boys, not on the varsity teams, came out for intramural basketball this year; and even the faculty had a try at the game when they defeated a student team in a donkey basketball game.

Riverside-Brookfield Squad Wins District Tournament

Under the guidance of coaches Dudley and Richert, a combined squad of light and heavyweight basketball players—Clarence Welgos, Henry Bethke, Ray Fregan, Edward Fregan, Harold Swanson, Paul Haase, Henry Sordel, Ralph Arboe, Howard Anderson, and Edward Nelson—won the Wheaton District Basketball Tournament held February 21-24, 1940. For the first time in R. B.'s history, this victory came to us. For their award, the boys received the district trophy and the privilege of competing in the Regional Tournament at Glen Ellyn.

The first game of the District Tournament, R. B. versus Bensenville, resulted in a score of 40 to 28, our favor. The next evening R. B. met Hinsdale, a team in our own conference, and won an easy game—29 to 21. The final game pitted R. B. against the formidable Argo team, but R. B. in top form, won by a score of 46 to 32, thus winning the tournament and the trophy.

Having won the district championship, the team entered the Regional Tournament at Glen Ellyn, held February 28 to March 2. R. B.'s first opponent was Proviso. In a thrilling overtime game, R. B. won by a score of 27 to 25.

The next evening, R. B. was unfortunately eliminated from further competition when Glenbard, a member of our conference, beat us in a hard fought game by a score of 21 to 18.

Heavies

The Riverside-Brookfield heavyweight basketball squad of 1939-1940 was led by co-captains Clarence Welgos and Howard Anderson. "Clarie," playing his third consecutive year as a regular, was one of the coolest and steadiest guards in the conference; and he was also high point man for this season. "Howie" Anderson, our left-handed forward, connected well enough with his long shots and one-hand hook shots to be second leading scorer, eight points behind "Joe" Welgos.

Ralph "Sparks" Arboe, the tallest man on the squad, used his height to advantage on the backboard and on defense. Clayton "Bud" Zimmerman, seeing his first real action this year, developed rapidly and had a sharp eye for the basket (or "bucket") when the season ended.

Ken Soderstrom and Terrence Duffy who are graduating this year, did not see a great amount of action but were faithful in daily practice.

The following are juniors and will return to what we hope will be a team of championship calibre next year. Ed "Swede" Nelson, the running mate of guard Welgos, was a capable ball handler and an accurate shot.

The center position was duly filled by tall boy Henry Bethke. Another big boy who saw a great deal of action, although handicapped by foot injuries, was Charles "Tinny" Sauers.

Lynn Alford and Bob Negele played enough to gain valuable experience that will help next year. Bob "Jeep" Allen started the year as manager but ended it playing with the squad.

Lights

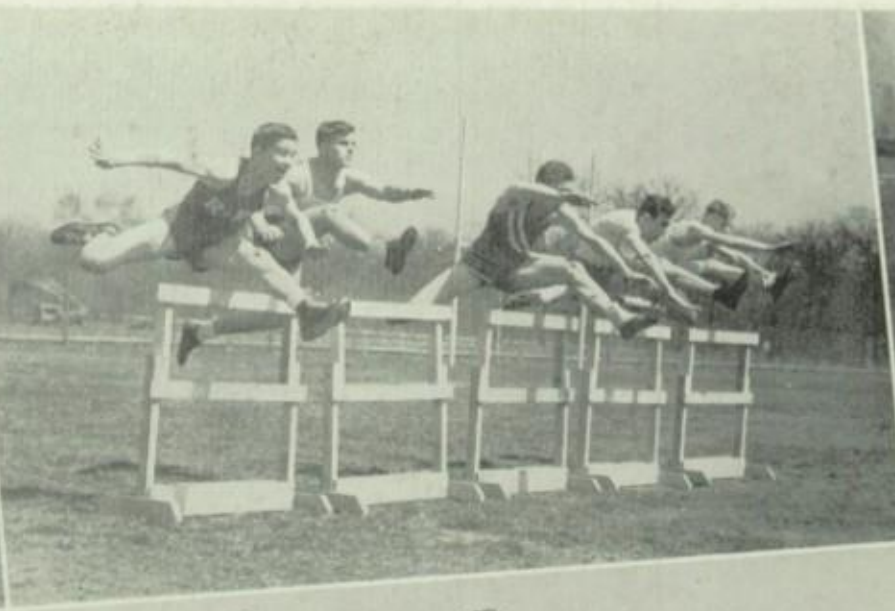

Last year's first team—Ray Fregan, Ed Fregan, Harold Swanson, Paul Haase, and Henry Sordel—returned complete this year and took the lightweight championship without losing a game. York, placing second, gave the R-B ponies the greatest competition and were beaten only by Swanson's basket in an exciting overtime play. "Whitey" was exceptionally accurate with rebound shots and follows Captain Ray Fregan as high point man on the team.

Ray proved himself an outstanding center and accumulated 97 points to gain the position of leading scorer in the league. Paul Haase, veteran player of four years, was a tricky ball handler and led the scoring in several of the games. Two other lettermen, in addition to the above, who are graduating this year are Ray Hoppenrath and Rudie Krieger. Although not in the regular lineup, "Happy" really displayed his true ability in the Glenbard game. Rudie was playing his first year of basketball with the team, but he soon became one of the most dependable men on the squad.

The heavyweight team will have two valuable additions next year in the persons of Eddie Fregan and Henry Sordel. Eddie was the surest shot on the lightweight team and "Hank" is a fast and expert ball handler.

Although not lettermen, the following boys lent their support to the team and all except Jim King, a senior, will return as next year's team: Aubrey Fanning, Bill Le Clear, Dave Price, Dick King, Philip Ruhe, Mark Coons, and Willis Bebinger.

Track

Best of everything (and Harriet) and all the success you'll need.
Bill Sullivan

The largest turnout of candidates in R-B track history early in January, gave Mr. Carlson assurance that spirit and perseverance would compensate for their lack of experience. Six veterans, led by Captain Howard Hill, formed a nucleus for the rapid development of several juniors who worked with the seniors to ensure a successful indoor season. The climax of the indoor activities was Captain Hill's mile championship at the Naperville Relays.

The outdoor season revealed a weakness in the field events as an all-sophomore weight crew and an all-freshman pole vaulting squad were too green to swing the balance of victory to the Blue and White. In the Wheaton and Proviso Relays, the sprinters, quarter-milers, half-milers, and milers, combined to place in both meets.

F. Grosse, R. Johnston, D. Hoff, G. Novak, R. Treland, H. Adamson, S. Gendon are seen standing in the left picture of the bottom row, while J. Lyle, J. Larson, D. Sieweke, E. Vieth, D. King, and A. Peterson are seated. The relay team, A. Mancl, J. Bebinger, and E. Ricker are shown passing the baton in the center picture. Taking the low hurdles are B. Johnston, J. King, and J. Turner.

Intramurals

Intramural activities for boys at Riverside-Brookfield High School include archery, badminton, basketball, boxing, football, ping pong, tumbling, and volley ball. Under Mr. Dudley's direction, the program of intramural sports gives opportunity for a larger number of boys to participate in athletics than would be possible on varsity teams alone. Frequently participants in intramural sports become so proficient that they are chosen for positions on teams in the major sports.

Riverside-Brookfield's intramural basketball and football teams have a competitive schedule with teams from the same conference schools met by the varsity.

In the pictures above you see D. Lundberg, D. Putts, W. Sedlasek, and R. Gunnar boxing. The boys tumbling are W. Glazer, J. Kenison, R. Treland, and G. Karl. W. Sapp, R. Andorf, and R. Dykinga are getting warmed up for the time when the weather will permit them to play outdoors.

Wrestling bouts do not deter J. Cizek and R. Vana and L. Frick has an opportunity to use his judicial skill. R. Voss, J. Bacastow, E. Folkerts, D. Jonas, J. Kroll, R. Schell, B. Biggar, and W. Miller are perhaps thinking that they may sometime represent R-B on the varsity basketball squad. Finally, we see J. Pedersen and L. Frick performing on the parallel bars.

Elaine Smith	Vice-President
Elsie Blaha	Secretary-Treasurer
Vivian Williams	Intramural Chairman
Shirley Gilbert	Extra Curricular Board Representative

The Girls' Athletic League, sponsored by Miss Virginia Boyle, is an association of girls interested in athletics. The yearly program is designed to stimulate interest in girls' athletics and to promote ideals of health and sportsmanship. A number of activities are provided to meet the varied interests of the participants.

The athletic program includes archery, swimming, bowling, basketball, baseball, cycling, tumbling, and badminton. The social aspect of the league is furthered by the parties and picnics held by the members several times during the year.

The pictures on the opposite page illustrate several of the activities through which the girls win points for the League awards. The fundamentals of basketball are discussed by S. Hiemerding, J. Roberts, J. Filip, K. Hendel, M. Mortvedt, S. Gilbert, and M. Gatherer in the upper right hand picture.

Baseball is portrayed in the first picture of the second row and pyramid formation in the second. On first base we find J. Hunter, the runner; M. Heller, the baseman; and J. Filip, the umpire. D. Jablonski, C. Brown, P. Tyson, M. Diegnau, N. LeClear, B. Aubrey, T. Fixari, M. Roberts, D. Carlson, J. Chlebeczek, S. Damore, J. Ashton, and J. Katz are the girls in the second picture.

The bottom four pictures are scenes from volley ball, badminton, hockey, and folk dancing activities.

den, D. Peterson, V. Williams, E. Smith, O. Sangtinet, E. Blaha. Third row: M. Heller, S. Damore, J. Brown, A. Campbell, E. Schoen, J. Hunter, S. Bursik.

Physical Education Demonstration

Annually the Physical Education Department presents its demonstration with the purpose of giving a general view of the activities carried on in the department.

The program, presented April 18 and 19, was divided into two parts this year. The first section, performed by the girls under the direction of Miss Virginia Boyle, consisted of dancing, tumbling, and pyramid building. Pictures of the dances may be seen at the left. The top picture shows the Spanish dancers: S. Bursik, D. Fencil, E. Pinnau, L. Illich, A. Marsh, and J. Kirby. Blue Danube, a modern waltz, was danced by C. Stoll, S. Neumayer, O. Mladkovich, and V. Williams. A character clog, Swanee, and an athletic dance, Dancing Clowns, was performed by E. Blaha, A. Hayer, J. Chlebeczek, V. Johnson, D. Carlson, J. Katz, L. Teller, E. Kayser, L. Swanson, D. Jablonski, P. Brennan, D. Brown, P. Johnson, S. Dihel, H. Bennett, and A. Arthur. Chug Ho, a tap dance, was danced by V. Gramer, P. Todd, J. Filip, R. Pavlicek, S. Gilbert, and M. Mortvedt. Following the dancing, the girls demonstrated their skill at tumbling.

The second part of the program was devoted to boys' tumbling acts and was directed by Mr. W. Alfred Dudley. Through these activities, skills and techniques are acquired which aid not alone in developing physical vigor, but in developing a knowledge and an appreciation of the rules of the game. This helps to build a background from which the individual may select leisure time activities for his life in school and, later, in the community.

The second picture shows the girls in one of their interesting tumbling routines. Standing: G. Vlasaty, J. Hultgren, M. Hevrdejs, L. Craig, S. Heimerdinger, C. Rooney, M. Alford, H. Klows, and V. Klows. Prone, while D. Fencil leaps over them, are M. Radke, S. Bursik, V. Witt, L. Illich, B. L. Schwab, O. Sangtinetette, and B. Near. The last picture in the first row illustrates one number in the spring board routines. E. Holzwart, D. Hoff, W. Herda, B. Schell await J. Balaban's leap.

The bottom row, left, shows one of the pyramid formations. The performers are D. Dunning, L. Pollack, and T. Shawhan, who stand on the backs of D. Diekman, B. Welch, J. Roberts, and J. Ehling.

Dear Jimmy,

Honestly, Jimmy, I'll sure miss you next year even tho' you do talk too much. We've had lots of fun this year & things won't seem the same next year without you around with your 'sunny' disposition. I'll always remember our little 'jam sessions' & all that you taught me because I really admire your philosophy.

I really can't fill up a page but you know how everybody likes you.

Lots of love & luck

Phyl

Jimmy —

I don't know you well — But you seem to be tops.

Good Luck!

Honor Senate

Election to the Riverside-Brookfield High School chapter of The National Honor Society is the highest honor to which a student may attain. Membership in this organization is synonymous with excellence in scholarship, leadership, character, and service.

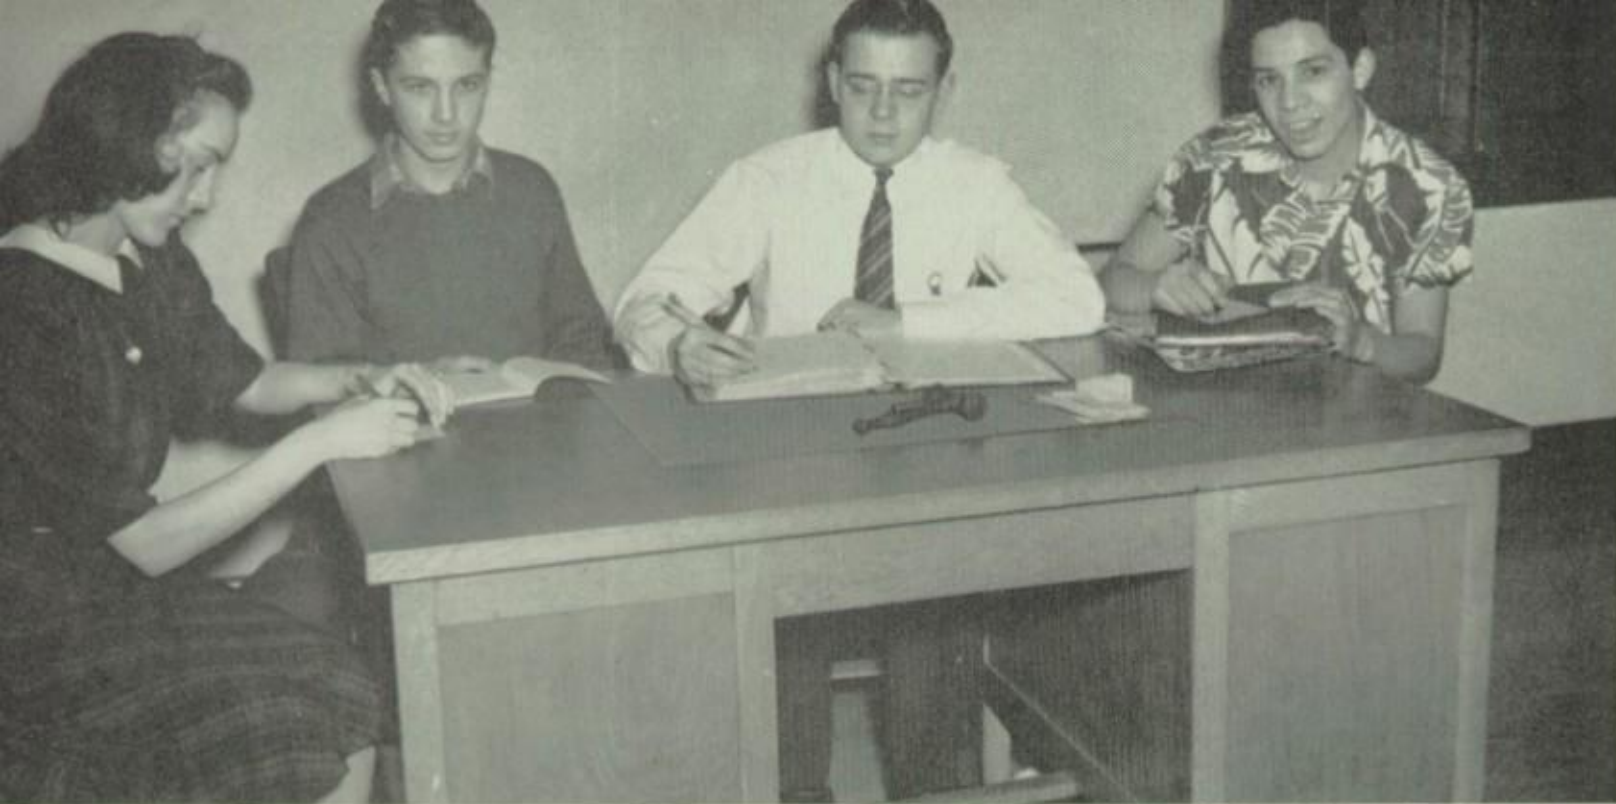

Every year, under the guidance of Miss Mabel Bare and by vote of the faculty, two boys and two girls from each of the sophomore, junior, and senior classes are selected on the basis of high scholastic attainment, effective leadership, strength of character, and preeminent service to the school and the community.

The aims of the National Honor Society are to encourage intellectual growth and to promote the ideal of service to one's fellows. The advantages gained by membership in this organization are not intangible only, but material as well, since students are eligible for financial assistance from the national organization to further educational pursuits.

Among the activities enjoyed by the members of the Honor Senate this year were the decoration of the school for the Christmas season, and the annual Commencement Day luncheon.

The Student Council

The Student Council of Riverside-Brookfield High School renders many services. Its purposes are five: To provide unity and cooperation of the pupils and faculty in all extra-classroom activities; to develop the spirit, ideals, and practice of good citizenship; to provide a means of adequate government and management of all extra-curricular activities; to promote the general welfare of the school; and to create a greater spirit of democracy in the student body.

The activities of the council were varied this year. A typical joint meeting of the council and the home room intermediaries was presented in assembly to illustrate the work of the council. The yearly Christmas basket campaign was continued and the food and money donated by the student body was distributed to the needy.

The social program of the council was enlarged this year, and an All-School dance, including a carnival for those students who did not care to dance, was given. The popularity of such a party was established when 437 students attended. The council makes it a part of its program to sponsor a clean-up campaign in the spring. In addition, the hall guard system is supervised by the council.

The council is proud that it was the agency which materially influenced the purchase of new lunch room equipment. The photograph at the left, below, shows you the new chairs and tables in place; the picture at the right shows you the intolerable situation that existed when school first resumed last fall.

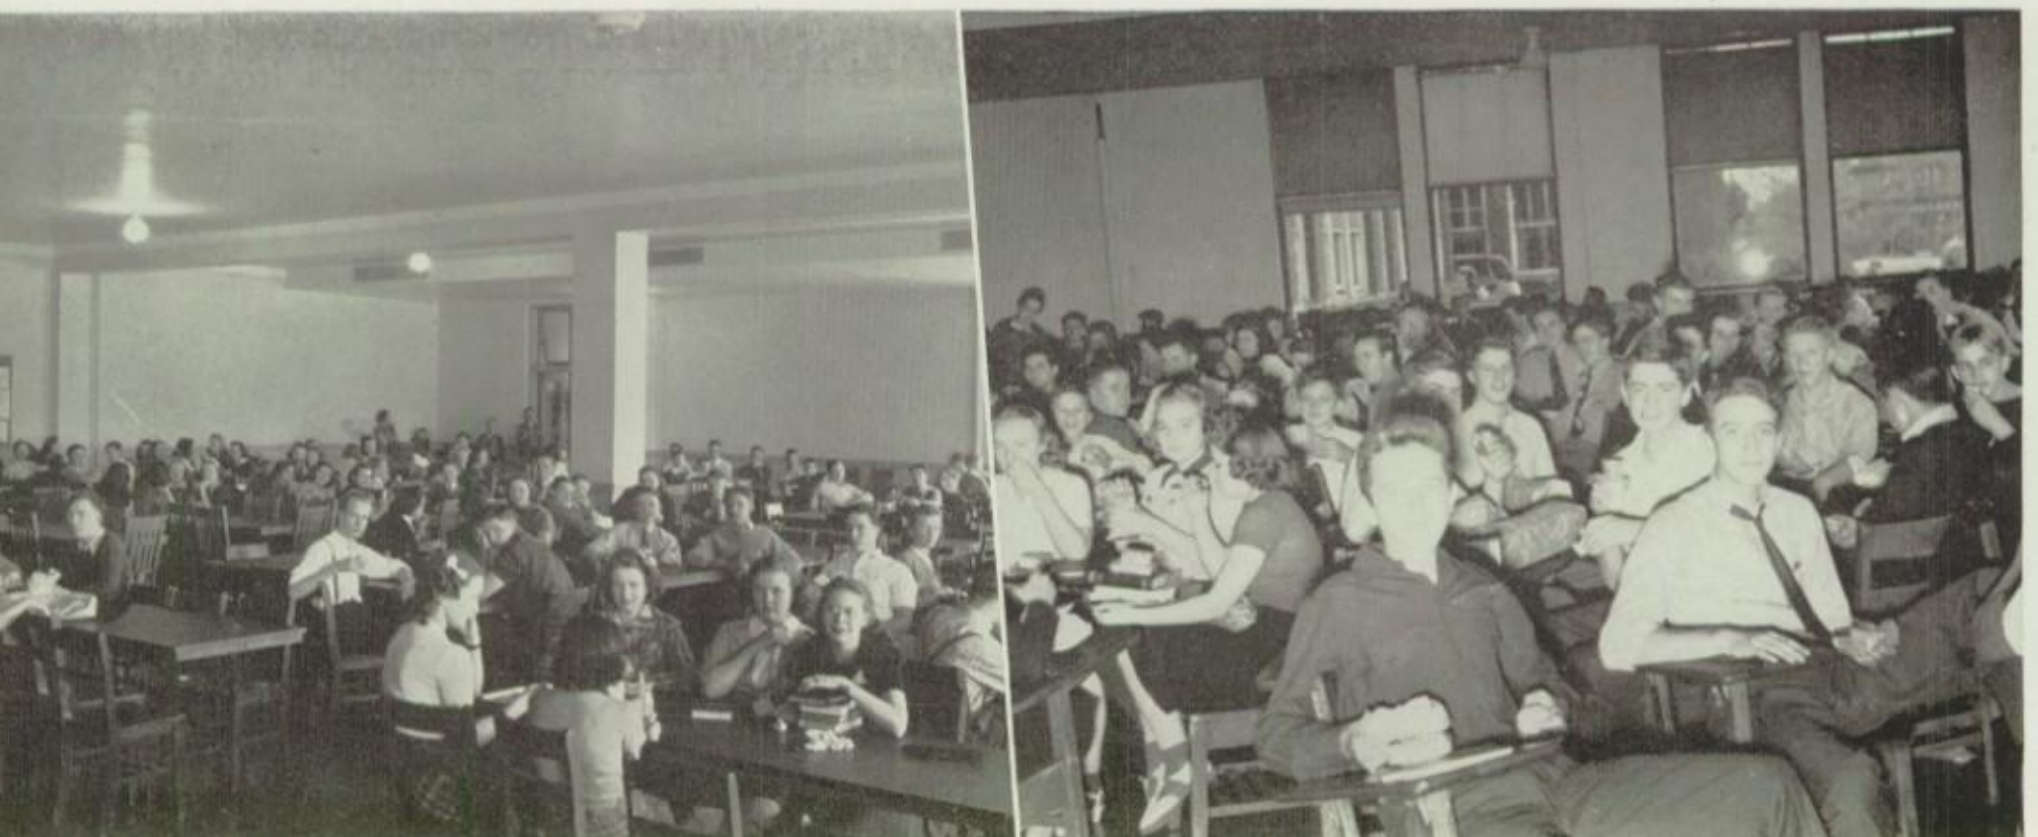

To Mr. Norton R. Kaiser, sponsor, goes much of the credit for the success of the council in carrying out its program of school activities.

The home room intermediaries serve as delegates to the meetings of the council. Questions of policy are brought to the home rooms and discussed. The intermediary is then able to report to the council regarding the approval or disapproval of the general student body.

The intermediaries are: Seniors—R. Chana, F. Haubrock, J. Pfeiffer, M. Chandler, H. Smith, H. Penney, J. Gustafson. Juniors—C. Donovan, E. Walsh, J. Lewe, C. Gross, R. Goldstein, J. Wendell, H. Sordel, C. Sauers. Sophomores—J. Penney, M. Eriksson, B. Schwab, J. Rettig, C. Stoll, E. Rietz, M. Alford, C. Foskett, M. Castle, A. Jones. Freshmen—J. Roberts, N. Romano, B. Schmidt, W. Haigh, D. Hoff, D. Meller, A. Arthur, J. Larson, R. Aguilar.

THE ROUSER

Not long ago the final copy for the book at which you are now looking was put in the hands of the printer. Away last September, plans were formulated for the 1940 edition of The Rouser and, with scarcely an interruption since that time, the staff has labored long and earnestly to bring you a record of a year at the Riverside-Brookfield High School.

There have been several innovations in printing the book this year. Most outstanding, perhaps, is the fact that the book is no longer published by the seniors alone. Representing, as it does, the entire student body, the yearbook is now edited by members of all four classes. A second feature, and one in which all the staff takes pride, is the use of more student photography than in former editions. Our especial thanks go to Charles Zirzow, a junior, for having taken some of our most interesting action shots and all of the club pictures.

The 1940 Rouser staff acknowledges the invaluable assistance of Mr. Joseph Matoucek, representative of the Pontiac Engraving Company, Chicago; Mr. John Roche and Miss Stevens of the Root Studios, Chicago; and Mr. Frank Lange, of St. Hedwig's Printery, Niles, Illinois, for their cooperation and friendly suggestions during the preparation of their book.

Dear Jimmy
 We really have had fun this year.
 You've given me plenty of things to laugh about! However Dr. B. told it against me. Let's say one word here. I want to wish you lots of luck next year - and who knows you may hear from me.

Clarion

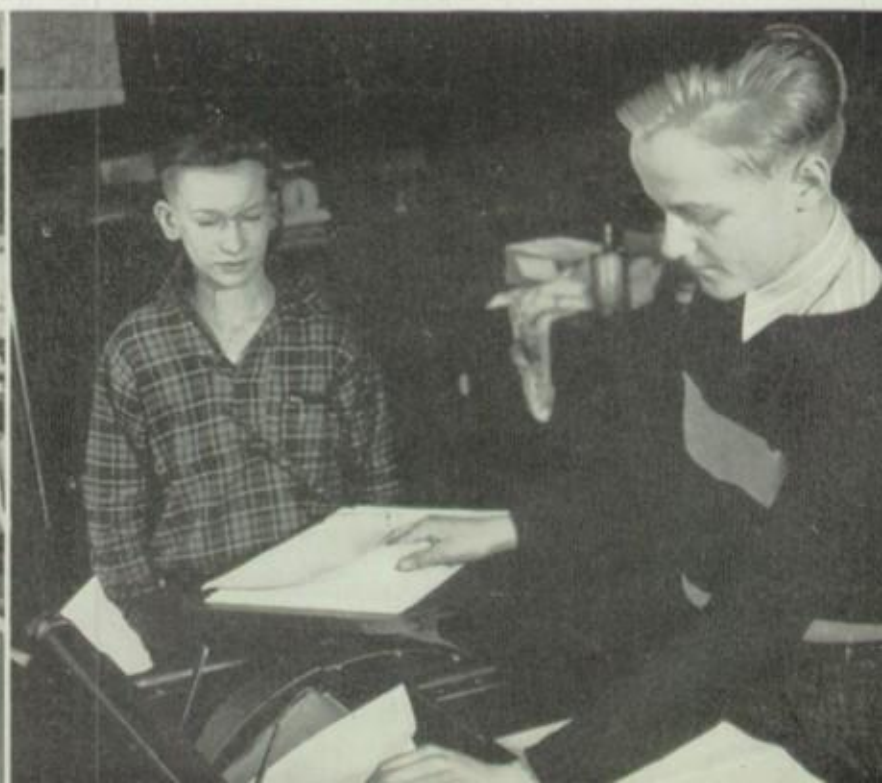

This year the staff of the Clarion, the school paper, carried a heavier load on its shoulders than formerly. The little paper has grown from a bi-monthly to a weekly sheet and the staff and freshman printing classes, supervised by Mr. Haack, worked many hours overtime to meet the deadline.

The editor-in-chief during the first semester was Jean Lipsey and Joe Post was assistant editor. Reporters, feature writers, columnists—all members of the "fourth estate"—were students in Miss Houston's journalism class.

An outstanding innovation this year was the size of the Clarion. Each issue was printed on notebook size paper and so punched that it could be bound in loose leaf covers. New features included the Etiquette Column, the Inquiring Reporter, and the Student Polls, patterned after the famous American Institute of Public Opinion surveys conducted by Dr. Gallup. Outstanding among the editions were those issued when the basketball championship was foremost in the students' minds and the special Homecoming number.

In the picture to the left, below, you see the staff assembled for weekly assignments: D. Vopatek, F. Vana, M. Rowland, M. Sullivan, S. Ripple, G. Barrett, H. Reeves, B. Soucek, B. Stoddard, J. Brown, B. Wagner, C. Welgos, A. Lewis, E. Williams, H. Penney, R. Murrin, J. Moore, S. Myers, D. Ashby, J. Strittar, L. Smith, V. Blaha, J. James, C. Gross, Miss Houston, Y. LeClerc, J. Lipsey, J. The Chimes of Normandy

In Corneville, one of the old villages of seventeenth century Normandy, the great annual fair is in progress. Men and girls who desire to obtain positions as servants are offering their services. It is an assemblage of village gossips, who discuss scandal and the common small-talk. Serpolette is one of the topics of conversation among the belles of the village. She comes just in time to "turn the tables" on the others, changing their taunts into expressions of rage.

Gaspard, an old miser, wishes to marry his niece, Germaine, to the Magistrate of the district, the Bailli. Germaine is not pleased with Gaspard's plan since she has vowed that she will wed no one except the young sailor, Grenicheux, who has pretended that he saved her from drowning.

Henri, Count de Corneville, who has been in exile since childhood, returns to his ancestral home to visit the castle of his birth. He is told that it is haunted, that strange lights are often seen flickering at the windows, and that the bells of the castle will ring out when the rightful master shall return. This romantic legend stirs the heart of Henri and he determines to investigate.

In order to escape the power of Gaspard, Germaine takes advantage of the privileges of the fair and engages herself as a servant of the Count. Her example is followed by Grenicheux and Serpolette.

Henri is determined to learn the truth regarding the character of the ghostly apparitions in the castle, and he discovers that they are caused by the miser, Gaspard, who has concealed his treasures there. This discovery drives Gaspard insane, especially when he thinks he hears the bells of the castle ring out.

Through an ancient document left by the Marquis de Lucenay, friend of the old Count de Corneville, it is learned that he has confided his daughter to Gaspard's care. Serpolette claims to be that child but it eventually turns out that Germaine is the real heiress, the true Marchioness; and Henri, not Grenicheux, is the one who saved her from drowning. Following the love duet between Henri and Germaine, wherein they are united, together with the reconciliation of all the parties, the romantic story is brought to a close.

The Music Department, under the direction of Miss Alice Brainerd, presented Robert Planquette's delightful operetta on March 15 and 16. The cast follows:

Gertrude	Irene Wilson, Eleanor Hines
Manette	Betty Lou Schwab, Doris Bollinger
Serpolette	Charlotte Vavrik
Bailli	William Dooley
Gaspard	Harry Gillespie
Jean Grenicheux	John Sydor
Germaine	Gladys Dombrow
Henri, Count de Corneville	Robert Novak

Miss Brainerd was assisted by Ruth Wagner and Kenneth Soderstrom as Student Directors. Jeanne James directed the dances and Arthur Komarek, Jack Scheiblaue, and Donald Haack served as stage hands. Mr. Raoul R. Haas supervised the dramatic interpretation.

Band and Orchestra

Under the baton of its energetic new director, Mr. Louis Newmark, the band and orchestra have this year experienced a Renaissance. During the year these organizations have supplied the music for several assemblies, the plays, exchange programs, and parent-teacher meetings; and they have become firmly established in reputation by the success of their Spring Concert, given in May.

The pictures below show the band and orchestra assembled in concert arrangement. The band, whose officers are J. Scheiblaue, president; B. Michel, vice-president; A. Hajek, secretary-treasurer; R. Dopp, property manager; and L. Robinson, librarian, has as members: W. Roberts, J. Slayton, L. Jones, J. Cizek, M. Borgered, E. Smith, L. Burrige, P. Todd, R. Pipkin, R. Bacastow, V. Simmons, H. Kicherer, W. Richardson, H. Adamson, R. Brown, A. Kral, W. Porter, J. Schreiber, R. Schreiber, W. Sedlacek, E. Sedgley, E. Blaha, O. Mladkovitch, H. Penney, W. Miller, G. Karl, G. Martin, W. Masque and Wig

Set in the gloomy mansion of Mr. Crosby, The Masque and Wig play, Bayard Veiller's The Thirteenth Chair, awakened suspense and chills at the rise of the first curtain. Who murdered Mr. Wales? and why? The following cast successfully solved the mystery:

Helen O'Neil	Marjorie Adams
Will Crosby	George Hrivnak
Mrs. Roscoe Crosby	Barbara Vickrey
Mr. Roscoe Crosby	Victor Peterson
Edward Wales	Briton Kirby
Mary Eastwood	Gwen Barrett
Elizabeth Erskine	Marcia Zimmerman
Helen Trent	Harriet Evans
Mr. Standish	Bert Krueger
Grace Standish	Irma Crosby
Phillip Mason	Robert Rice
Braddish Trent	Robert Braun
Meadows	Donald Mitchell
Madame La Grange	Ethel Emery
Tim Donahue	Howard Adamson
Sergeant Dunn	John Smithson
Doolan	Richard Klein

Presented on December 15 and 16, the play was under the direction of Miss E. Lucile Shipley, sponsor of the organization.

THE ADORABLE SPENDTHRIFT

Under the direction of Miss E. Lucile Shipley, the Senior Class successfully presented Ray Brian's clever comedy on February 16 and 17. The action of the play, set in the living room of the Mason's home, Galesburg, Connecticut, concerns Hardy Mason and his family. Hardy has inherited a none too great sum of money from his aunt, but he finds that his family has grown indolent and intolerant with their new position. Mrs. Mason, particularly, objects to his engagement to Sari, a "foreigner." The complications mount rapidly; Sari is revealed a countess, Hardy's lost fortune is recouped, and the play ends happily.

The characters, in order of their appearance, are:

McWatters	Jerry Dobrovolny
Effie	Mary Chandler
J. C. Mason	Robert Rice
Mrs. Mason	Ethel Emery
Irene Mason	Arline Miller
LeRoy Morton	Allen Jones
Senator Dan Pollard	Ray Benson
Hardy Mason	Alan Lewis
Mrs. Reeves-Alton	Eileen Beier
Helen Reeves-Alton	Gwen Barrett
Sari	Marcia Zimmerman
Bob Brackett	Jack Scheiblaue
Mr. Stoneham	William Ryan
Miss Keyes	Barbara Vickrey
Perkins	Robert Maresh

Organizations

EXTRA-CURRICULAR BOARD

To foster further cooperation and understanding between the faculty and students, and to coordinate all extra curricular activities is the object of the Extra Curricular Board. The Board consists of a faculty and student representative for each department. Mr. Lybeck as Dean of Boys, is assisted by John Turner; Miss Thompson as Dean of Girls, by Barbara Wagner. Mr. Kaiser and Victor Peterson represent the Student Council; Mr. Vance and Jean Lipsey, Publications; Mr. Lott and Bette Beindorf, the Student Activity Finance Plan; Miss Brainerd and Burt Krueger, Music; Miss Shipley and Marcia Zimmerman, Dramatics; and Miss Hine and Richard Craig, Assembly Program Division. Mr. Haebich serves Ex Officio.

The project this year has been the revision of the students' hand-book. Meetings of the Board are held on the first and third Thursday of each month.

ADVERTISING CLUB

A hard working group who publicize, but receive little publicity or appreciation, are the members of the Advertising Club.

Among the many ways the club advertises school activities are: Street car posters, hand-bills, original and printed posters, tags, write ups in the local and city newspapers, broadcasting from a sound truck, and original publicity stunts.

Mr. Vetter, the club sponsor, has devoted much of his time to the campaigns. The officers are: president, Ethel Emery; vice-president, Helen Penney; secretary, Mary Chandler.

BECEUS CLUB

Thirty outstanding freshman girls answer your wants and wishes in the way of refreshments at all school events. The picture shows the annual initiation ceremony.

Miss Thompson, the sponsor, is assisted by Catherine Hendel, president; Margaret Heller, vice-president; and Ruth Pavlicek, secretary-treasurer. The captains of the three teams are Doris Meller, Olga Mladkovich, and Dorothy Schmidt.

BIOS LOGOS CLUB

The nearby zoo has again provided a source of interest to the members of the Bios Logos Club. Members of the club are all biology students who desire further information in that field. Mr. Williams, sponsor, has taken the club on additional field trips and has engaged speakers for the monthly meetings. The officers this year are: president, Elaine Biskup; vice-president, Doris Bollinger; secretary, Roberta MacGowan, treasurer, Lynn Coy.

Organizations

Louise Fencil, member of the Catalyst Club.

PEP CLUB

Under the leadership of its president, Bob Chana, this year's Pep Club did a great deal towards promoting a spirit of school loyalty and good sportsmanship. The many hilarious pep meetings which were held provided amusing climaxes to the week's work. Several afternoon dances were sponsored by the club and a rousing "homecoming" dance ended the football season with pep and gaiety.

The officers are Bob Chana, president; David Aguilar, vice-president; and Victor Peterson, treasurer. Mr. Thompson is sponsor.

CAMERA CLUB

The Camera Club, sponsored by Mr. Peebles, strives to promote interest in photography through an annual photography exhibit which features the best work of its members. At meetings, members compare notes and broaden their knowledge of photography.

Ronald Aschburner is president this year. He is assisted by LeRoy Bryant, secretary; and Jo Ann Hunter, treasurer.

CATALYST CLUB

The Catalyst Club is composed of students from the physics and chemistry classes and is sponsored by Mr. Yager. Members conduct experiments at meetings and go on numerous field trips. A piano factory was visited this year.

The officers are Burton Michel, president; Donald Abel, vice-president; and Ray Vavrinek, secretary-treasurer.

CLIO CLUB

The Clio Club was organized to promote a better understanding of history and of our own civilization. Field trips to historical spots in Riverside and Brookfield, and floor talks by different members of the club were some of the activities of the year. The sponsor is Mr. Carlson and the officers for the first semester were Alan Lewis, president; Robert Novak, vice-president; John Gustafson, secretary; and Donald Vopatek, treasurer.

Second semester officers are John Wendell, president; Dick King, vice-president; Otilie Sangtinet, secretary; and Dorothy Vopatek, treasurer.

Victor Peterson and James Brown, debaters.

Organizations

DEBATE CLUB

The Debate Club, sponsored by Mr. Thompson, takes part in debates with all of the schools in the West Suburban Conference. In the course of the year the debate team prepares its pros and cons for the national debate topic. This year's question was: "Resolved: That the government should take over the control of the railroads."

The club's main purpose is to promote the art of public speaking among the students of Riverside-Brookfield High School and to interest them in problems of great national importance.

This year's officers are Gwen Barrett, president; Donald Abel, vice-president; and Shirley Heimerdinger, secretary.

FOREIGN CORRESPONDENCE CLUB

In order to establish friendly relations between the youth of the United States and the youth of other nations and to preserve the art of letter writing are the purposes of the Foreign Correspondence Club. The officers are Dorothy Ehling, president; Pauline Marsh, vice-president; Lynden Woody, secretary; and Jean Diekman, treasurer. Miss Houston is sponsor of this very active group.

GERMAN CLUB

Der Deutsche Verein, sponsored by Miss Frazier, adds interest to the regular German course with discussions of German customs, history, and music. This year, der Deutsche Verein entertained with the Pro Merito and Spanish Clubs at a Christmas party. The officers of the club are Jane Norris, president; Otilie Sangtinet, vice-president; and Dorothy Hendel, secretary and treasurer.

SENIOR HI-Y

To create, maintain, and extend throughout the school and community high standards of Christian character is the purpose of the Hi-Y Club. In addition to the informal discussions carried on in the regular meetings, this year's club managed to hold a Christmas dance, sell articles for Berea, Kentucky, College, exchange programs with the Hi-Y clubs of neighboring schools, hold a pot-luck supper, and participate in all local and state conferences. Clarence Welgos was president of the club. The members of the Cabinet were John Turner, James Shawhan, Jerry Dobrovolsky, Victor Peterson, David Aguilar, and Robert Negele. Mr. Lott is sponsor.

Organizations

Hi-Y initiation.

JUNIOR HI-Y

The Junior Hi-Y is an organization to prepare freshmen and sophomore boys for membership in the Senior Hi-Y. The club was started last year by Mr. Lott and its meetings provide an opportunity to discuss the problems that face boys in high school. The Junior Hi-Y initiated the plan of selling candy in the corridors during the seventh hour in order to add funds to their treasury. The boys selected Robert Novak as president. James Roberts is vice-president; Tom Edgerton, secretary; and Henry Weber, chaplain.

HOME ECONOMICS CLUB

A visit to the Lady Esther cosmetics plant was one of the highlights of the year's program of the Home Economics Club, which is sponsored by Mrs. Lussenhop and Miss Kramp. Fashion experts and other interesting speakers made up the remainder of the programs. Sylvia Bursik was elected president; Dorothy Pavlet, vice-president; Victoria Witt, secretary; and Virginia Witt, treasurer.

LETTERMEN'S CLUB

The purpose of the Lettermen's Club is to promote clean athletics, good sportsmanship, clean living, and good school spirit. The club's advisors are the athletic coaches of Riverside-Brookfield. Boys who have received letter awards are eligible for membership. The officers this year were: president, Clarence Welgos; vice-president, Henry Sordell; and secretary-treasurer, Richard King. One of the activities this year was the organizing of a bowling league for the members.

MASQUE AND WIG

The dramatic club, Masque and Wig, is the oldest organization of the school. Sponsored by Miss Shipley, the club presented two performances of THE THIRTEENTH CHAIR on December 15 and 16. Members are chosen through try-outs open to the entire student body. The club enjoyed several theatre parties during the year. The officers of the club are: Marcia Zimmerman, president; Gwen Barrett, vice-president; Harriett Evans, secretary; and Joseph Nicoletti, treasurer.

Riding in rhythm!

Organizations

ORPHEUS SOCIETY

To encourage students in appreciating good music and to use music as a form of recreation is the aim of the Orpheus Society. This musical organization is sponsored by Miss Brainerd and its musicals are held once a month at the homes of members. The club attends operas and concerts during the year. The officers for the first semester were: president, Mary Louise Rowland; vice-president, Charlotte Vavrik; secretary-treasurer, Robert Allen. Second semester officers were: Dolores Smith, president; Mary Louise Nelson, vice-president; John Sydor, secretary-treasurer.

PRO MERITO

The purpose of Pro Merito is to promote sociability among the Latin students and to enable them to learn more about the literature, history, and customs of the Roman people. The organization is sponsored by Miss Moore. Virginia Blaha is president; Doris Ashby, vice-president; and Peggy Brehm, secretary.

TRACK AND FIELD

The Track and Field Club, sponsored by Mr. Carlson, was organized this year. A number of activities have been enjoyed by this enthusiastic group. Freshman and intra-class meets have been held, and the club arranged the program, given to the entire school, featuring Glenn Cunningham, famous miler, as speaker. Track films have been taken and the club has purchased books on track for the library. Officers are: Howard Hill, president; Arthur Mancl, vice-president; and Ray Benson, secretary.

PHILATELIST CLUB

Stamp collectors enjoy a varied number of activities through the year as members of the Philatelist Club. Among these have been the engagement of outside speakers, social meetings, and discussions. The members of the club study the histories of different stamps and they come to know better the history of our country and of foreign countries. The philatelists also exchange and sell stamps to fellow members within the club. Mr. Hoffman is the club sponsor and Mark Castle is president.

RIDING CLUB

The Riding Club, sponsored by Miss Carson, was organized to bring together everyone interested in horse back riding. Due to the large number of students wishing to ride, two groups ride at the Stalford Stables in La Grange, Illinois, on Wednesday and Thursday of each week. Here the horses are furnished and instruction is given. The club has enjoyed a pancake dinner and a number of picnics during the year. Mary Louise Rowland is president and Barbara Gray is secretary-treasurer.

Organizations

Art Mancl and Mr. Newmark adorned during Sharclub's Bow Week.

SCRIBBLERS CLUB

The Scribbler's Club is sponsored by Miss Smith and Miss Barrick. Lorraine Fabbri, a senior, has served the club as president during the past year.

The purpose of the club is to promote a better idea of business in the minds of the commercial students.

Activities during the past two semesters have included a demonstration by a speed typist, talks from business men of Chicago, movies of correct procedure for a telephone operator, a picnic, and a Christmas Party.

THE SHARCLUB

Having ended its second year of organization, the Sharclub is very proud of the record it has made. Such activities as the freshman party, the big sister movement, all of the class teas, the homecoming and leap year dances, the rummage sale, hair-bow week, and the girls' assembly are major events accomplished this year. Every girl in the school is automatically a member of the club, but the officiating function is centered in 15 girls. These constitute the Senate.

The Sharclub is distinctly a service club and its purpose is to bring the girls of R.B. closer together and share with them the duties of the school.

Miss Thompson is sponsor of the club and the officers of the club are: president, Barbara Wagner; vice-president, Helen Mann; secretary-treasurer, Dorothy Ehling.

SPANISH CLUB

That students of Spanish may further their knowledge of Spanish literature, music, and art, and to give them the opportunity of learning more about the countries in which Spanish is spoken, the Spanish Club has been organized. Sybil Myers is president; Connie Gross, vice-president; Doris Drazil, secretary; and Shirley Neumeyer, treasurer.

USHER CLUB

The Usher Club, sponsored by Miss Courtney and Miss Moore, is one of the service clubs. The members usher at school events. The club is divided into two teams whose captains are Marie Steiner and Anita Gronow. These teams alternate at various school activities. The officers are: Doris Foreman, president; Virginia Blaha, vice-president; and Louise Fencil, secretary.

Dear Jimmy,

Honestly, I've had more fun and good times with you than with any other boy I've ever known. We've had some good talks, too, but I hope we'll have even better ones in the future. Your dancing has spoiled me. I'm afraid. I can't seem to find anyone that dances as well.

I know you're going to be a success in life; you will go places with that personality and sense of humor of yours; and I like a boy with the pep and spirit you have.

I sincerely hope that I'll see a lot of you this summer and that you won't forget me next year. I certainly won't forget you. But with the pretty girls you'll meet next year you'll probably forget the "angel in disguise" (but I hope not).

Love, Harriet

P.S. I'd like you to write me if you feel at all inclined.

Well Jim here's wishing you the best of luck & everything
I know you'll make a success of life without my wishing

It sure has been nice knowin you, Jim-
I'd hate to lose track of you, so I wish you weren't graduating. (Course,
I wouldn't want you to flunk
we've had some swell times together haven't we?
